

What do you like about Lee?

Its location near to Blackheath and Greenwich Park and its transport connections. Also a growing sense of community

I like the low rise mixed use of the area.

Manor House & Gardens are a great local asset. The Sainsburys is good and some of the shops away from Leigate are great.

The fact that there is a fair amount of green space in the area.

the open spaces, the transport links, there is a supermarket nearby where I live

It is a friendly area with good social and ethnic mix and has green areas /parks for community use and lots of local community based organisations as well as well used cafes restaurants and

Its a useful shopping point

The variety of housing, lots of little shops, plenty of parks, good access and good transport connections

It feels like suburban and its accessibility to central London.

the location, the amenities, the community spirit

I like that it's diverse - a range of wealth brackets, race/nationalities and age groups - I think this is an important reason why it is a friendly neighbourhood. Lots of families lends stability and gives people more of The parks, the quality and, in general, the consistency of the housing stock, the family centric atmosphere and the burgeoning collection of good bars/shops/ restaurants

New independent shops springing up on Lee Rd for example. Community ,family nature of the area.

had a village feel

lots of green space

I like the fact that it is at the crossroads of several major transport and shopping hubs but also itself has all of the local conveniences needed for daily life. I also like that the majority of the businesses in the area are

Manor Park, non-chain shops such as Bread and Jam, the framing shop and our fish and chip shop.

Green spaces and semi-decent links for getting into town

The parks, people, transport links

The local amenities are good - parks, shops, transport

It's a fairly quiet area with lots of families, good primary schools, good transport and easy walk to Blackheath.

Good transport links but without the feeling of being in a city and all that goes with it.

Community spirit and safety

I only recently moved here, but the people have been friendly and welcoming. Good range of things to do with small children.

Tree lined wide roads with older housing in some parts and good(largely) modern housing.

Lovely friendly community spirited area that has reasonably good connections to central London, great schools and lovely parks. Availability of houses (versus flats) at reasonable prices (by London standards) was

Near shops and public transport

Good public travel buses & trains Black Heath village & easy reach of Greenwich park

Nearness to get into the city, local areas and parks.

It's history

Green spaces and community feel

Basic amenities within walking distance. Parks. Reasonable transport links into London.

The location is good

Feeling of community, easy access to lots of different places, I have many friends here. Good mix of people living in Lee, it's not snobby but reflective of London society.

It has a very neighbourly feeling - it has good quality houses, decent schools, nice people and decent public transport

I love the residential atmosphere. Green leafy trees etc and a sense of community when you look for it.

It is family friendly and has green spaces whilst still retaining an urban feel

Very little these days

it is easy to walk to and there are shops that I like to use - especially at the bottom of Lee Road

Lee is green, its easy to get everywhere, services in borough, local parks, friendly

Parks, easy transport access

It has a relaxed and easy-going feel. Though not included in the above boundary map Sutcliffe Park is a tremendous asset to the community and area. On average, the transport links are pretty good.

A mixture of green spaces and away from Lewisham centre

The post office, the car wash, Studio 61 and Carola! Otherwise, the area round Lee Green which is the part I know is rather sad and in need of some loving care.

The mix of people from all sorts of backgrounds and countries, close to central London but easy to get out to the countryside, good number of green spaces and tree lined roads, proximity to Lewisham, Blackheath and

Nice area, close to blackheTh

Good housing and quick transport links to Central London.

The scale of low level housing and reasonably quite side roads

The park

The transport connections

Green space, easy access to Eltham Centre facilities and library.

it is diverse and unpretentious

We have mainly two/ three storey houses in streets that are well scaled, which often have good tree planting, all an inheritance from well mannered builders and inhabitants.

Family friendly and an up and coming area.

The green feel and low rise residential nature of the area.

Friendly and unpretentious. Good links into central London, Lewisham, Blackheath and out to Kent. Green spaces. Diversity. On the border between inner city and suburbs. Has a spacious feel.

Manor House gardens, library, Manor Park

Good transport links.

Some nice restaurants and cafes.

Friendly and cheap place to live

It's location close to Blackheath, Greenwich and Lewisham, as well as the good transport links

Nice people, good primary schools, sense of community, decent pubs & restaurants

Lovely neighbourhood with good primary schools, shopping and transport facilities. Nice green spaces and a great community feel.

Being part of a thriving community where my children have grown up and where we feel part of a community! We have amazing neighbour with whom we have built friendships and we are here for each

The strong community

It's my home

Traditional period residential areas such as around the Manor House and near Blackheath interspersed with low-rise newer buildings;

It's friendly and has a strong community feel. Good park, library (used to have anyway), schools, churches, transport

Nicer part of Lewisham

The architecture, tree lined roads. Some good amenities.

Lee is a community that I'm proud to be a part of. I have many friends who live here and have made many more through the street party we hold annually in Leyland Road. I think there are many attractive roads in A friendly area, with good amenities (local shops, pubs and parks etc) and good transport links into Central London and other areas. Close to Blackheath and Greenwich but more affordable. Like the fact it is a less well-

Good access to public transport, variety of small shops and larger supermarkets.

Strong sense of community

serene conservation, artisan businesses, purportedly quiet location

Relative homogeneity of the victorian terraced housing stock, community feel to the place, good schools, great parks and excellent links to central London

I live in the conservation area and I like that from my windows there are no ugly buildings good transport links. closeness to Blackheath.

I was born here. I live in a nice road with nice neighbours and can walk to the station and shops in a few minutes. We are far enough out of central London to have some space but close enough that I can work in Manor House Gardens, access to public transport, trees, easy access to supermarket, Manor House Gardens Library

Good community

I like that there is a good feel to the area and that things seem to be improving.

It's quiet in comparison with other places, green and friendly.

leafy roads, good rail service, close to Blackheath, quiet road

It is now becoming a town / village in its own right, with some fantastic restaurants now, together with a good dose of green spaces

Small town-like atmosphere around Hither Green and Lee stations thanks to small, local and independent cafes, pubs, restaurants, barbers and shops ran by friendly people plus low to moderate road traffic.

Amenities, transport links, parks and space

The green spaces, proximity to Blackheath and Greenwich. Cheap housing.

Close to Hither Green and Blackheath. Burnt ash is improving.

community and transport links

The parks and closeness to the heath

Good amenities and friendly area

Proximity to central London, blackheath and Bromley. Beginning to get more cafes/pubs

The community

I like: 1. The way that a number of community groups have become active over the last few years - e.g. FUSS, Manor House Gardens Users, etc. - and the development of community events (Xmas Fair, Festival, etc.). 2.

More options for eating out/food/drink than there used to be.

Not a lot .. it has lost any sort of community feel

Great houses. Beautiful housing stock-the conservation area is beautiful.

It's still reasonably quiet with a bit of green space.

The community feel, Manor House Gardens

great place to live. Good rail link to london.

Trees and access to green spaces, the mixture of characters (architecturally), a focused heart (although it is struggling), proximity to other bits of London.

Pleasant environment, well established residential area, well served by public transport

There are lots of green spaces and talented people

It has its own character and there is a sense of community. There are good parks and it is near Greenwich and a short train journey to London.

Modest and quiet

It is a compact neighbourhood, with many elegant, well built houses, spacious streets, feels safe, good transport connections.

Variety of architecture, cosmopolitan, good transport links, brilliant parks relative affordability; proximity to green spaces (sutcliffe park, manor house gardens, blackheath/greenwich park). feels safe and relatively low crime.

Manor Park

International Academy of Greenwich

Friendly community with good amenities and transport links

Its historical heritage

Several shops and bus routes

It's close to Blackheath and hithergreen, a bit of an unknown and good value homes

The old houses, tree lined streets and parks.

Great transport links and access to local facilities- shops, health/leisure, parks. Within reach of other local centres-Hither Green, Blackheath, Lewisham. Community feel in some parts- although we now lack a

Manor House gardens and library

Friendly place - most things are local - people do things for the good of the community (more than other places)

It's where I've lived for nearly 40 years -- it's my neighbourhood. It's changed over the years, sometimes in good ways, sometimes in bad ways, but on the whole it feels like home. There are good transport and

The community

Shops, restaurants, schools, park,

Quality of people

It's a safe area with a good neighbours and community.

It has all the facilities I need, is peaceful, close enough to central London and to roads leading out of London and reasonable transport.

A strong sense of community. Great public transport. Public places in the area that have a strong sense of ownership by the community. Small distinctive businesses that engage with the community and flavour it.

Proximity to shops and transport links.

Manor House gardens, library, usually peaceful, wildlife, close to Blackheath, good primary schools

Good transport links, good variety of local shops

Variety of shops, good transport links, feels safe.

Great community.

Good little cafes and some nice independent shops

Having lived here for 30 years I feel part of the community, nice people, nice architecture, good schools, Manor House Gardens is a wonderful asset to the area

Nice cafes, nice park, good housing stock.

Diverse

Many attractive streets, good community.

Mix of housing - stunning Victorian housing, 1950s terraces, high rise local authority - synonymous with the mix of people in the area. Excellent transport. Some nice shops/restaurants. Next to Hither Green and It's still rather old fashioned in architectural terms which is good and it has a buzz about it these days. New people in the area maybe - bound to happen as property prices are still appealing compared to other nearby

The close knit community feel of it.

The new school (IAG)

Multicultural. Safe. Quiet without there being nothing to do. Good range of shops and restaurants / cafes

The new IAG school. Manor park.

Manor House Gardens , library, amenities- Sainsbury's, local shops & restaurants . Community feel and mostly safe feeling with kids

The new iAG school my daughter attends

I am writing to you as a supporter /parent of the International Academy of Greenwich which is currently located at King's Church, Meadowcourt Rd. We feel strongly that the school will add a great deal to the life

The new secondary school (IAG) in the King's Church

There is a good community spirit, lots of families, improving local businesses. Just the Lee gate area lets it down

The new secondary School (IAG) in the King's Church

International Academy of Greenwich (IAG) - the new secondary school currently in a temporary location in the King's Church.

Parks, library (Manor House now 'closing'), fast train to London, large Sainsburys, local shops & cafes, walking distance to large open spaces (B'heath/Greenwich).

Lovely community

New secondary school (IAG) in Kings Church

Great Community, Green Spaces, small shops eg bookshop and cafes, family friendly, close to greenwich and blackheath

Lee has a very strong sense of community, and is a great place to live for a family with good primary schools and parks nearby. The residential streets feel relatively safe.

It's a really good community of people and local shops.

I love how it has so much potential. Lee can only get better. I love how close it is to Blackheath and Lewisham.

The new secondary School (IAG) in the King's Church

Lee is very convenient for access (main road to London from the South East) and close to lovely places such as Blackheath and Greenwich. New International school (the IAG) is a fantastic addition.

Family friendly with great facilities within walking distance.

Surprisingly green and tranquil for an inner city area

not so central but still London

The sense of community amongst the residents of Lee and their willingness to sacrifice their time for the benefit of the other residents of Lee. The care of the Lee residents for the Lee area is remarkable.

It's a nice community of people. There are fairly good transport links to get around. There's a good new secondary school (international academy of Greenwich) just started in the area.

I have lived in the neighborhood for a number of years and am now close by in Greenwich.

Lee Green is a good area, family oriented, leafy, lovely quiet residential streets.

IAoG project of new school

Good residential neighbourhood with good transport links to central London

Access to green spaces relatively locally

Mixed character and use, open spaces, linear character and history of Lee High Rd

I like the fact that we have great transport links and excellent access to parks, open spaces, Blackheath Village and Greenwich.
The mix of old and new buildings; the easily accessible supermarket; the open space of the Quaggy River flood plain defence
I am delighted about the new secondary school that has opening - IAG - a real opportunity for the area and an education philosophy which I agree with. Adds real choice for parents in the area
The new secondary school (IAG) in the King's Church. It is good to see a community providing new and ambitious provision for its young people.
It is a culturally diverse area with many interesting and old buildings and public spaces

What don't you like about Lee?

Legate is awful

The air pollution, burglaries (I've had three) and the increasing volume of traffic.

The sad demise of Leegate, the lack of a joined up Lee, or decent focal point. Where is 'Lee'? It seems to merge into everywhere else without any kind of definite identity apart from the Leegate centre.

It's dirty and run down.

the run down shops, especially Leegate. The traffic. that some of the housing is rundown and looks shabby

The local Leegate shopping area is very run down and we need a better one. We seem to have lost the argument for a smaller super market but I'd like to see the best use made of the remaining space for shops

The shops on Staplehurst Road, the sense of community, the fact the area is pulling together to make positive changes. Manor Park cafe and the improvements that don't just focus on Manor House Gardens

The traffic

Busy roads, difficulty of crossing road near Sainsbury's, pollution, empty properties like the Tiger pub, empty for a long time, are of neglect in the centre, reputation for violence though I have never witnessed anything

It's increased traffic, pollution and the new Asda's project

the traffic; no step free access at Hither Green station

Housing becoming far too expensive and pushing local families out. I don't want Lee to become only affordable to bankers.

Lewisham housings poor approach with regards to maintaining its housing stock (e.g. The house next to mine has had pigeons living in the roof space for over ten years and Lewisham has done nothing about it, despite dumping /precinct dreadful

I think it is a little run down and there are some empty premises such as the derelict pub next to the post office. I think the parade is also an eyesore and the pedestrian crossings at the main intersection are a safety

The squalid shopping centre

The Leegate centre- it is very ugly and I would not feel safe there at night.

Heavy traffic, run down shopping centre. Very poor cycle infrastucture

Lack of primary school places, poor road layout, edith nesbitt park been left to rot, new parking restrictions, leegate, too many secondary schools now new school opened. Poor coordination between Greenwich and

East of Hither Green being used as a thoroughfare with speeding cars, the slow development of Leegate

Lack of a sense of community.

Types of dirty and unkempt shops

Poor range (and quality) of shops/cafes (with one or two notable exceptions - Lucianos, Home cafe etc), I would like to see a wider range of shops, to include small businesses as well as high street stores, rather than

Traffic volume and speed in side roads. Commuter rat running and consequent diesel pollution
Leegate Shopping area - although this is obviously due to be redeveloped.
Lee Green intersection (Lee Road, Lee High Road , Burnt Ash Road, Eltham Road) is terrible. The redesign has Too many eating places
The empty shops, the cheap shop frontages and general air of dilapidation.
Week days parking in upwood road & also used as a cut through to Lewisham
Rat running traffic and the different parking zones.
Noise & pollution
Lee gate lack of restaurants/bistro
Congestion. Fly tipping. Rubbish.
Bit scruffy
Closed and derelict shops
Leegate and poor traffic flow.
Lee gate
Not enough quality shops and am forced to go to lewisham where it is ugly, Blackheath which is pretentious and eltham which is just meh.
It lacks high quality and interesting shops and cultural options. Some of the buildings are very ugly.
The state of Leegate. The traffic congestion @Lee Green the empty shops in the precinct
Lack of decent shops
The state of Leegate shopping centre
Despite a few recent openings up Lee Road there aren't really that many good places to nip out and have a nice bite to eat or drink.
Lack of quality shops in Lee Green.
The shopping precinct, which used to have a few good shops, like the ironmonger and the chemist, but now is dreary and neglected.
Levels of air pollution - bad enough for me to be seriously considering leaving London. Threat of St Modwen's prison-like fortress at Leegate. Difficulty getting on trains / buses at rush hour.
Leegate centre, lee green traffic lights.
NIL

Lack of restaurants but improving. Lack of Small businesses. The way properties are changing due to extensions etc.
Crime Lee high road is scummy and doesn't feel safe at night
Parking largely due to local residence irresponsible parking behaviour. Poor public transport that the Leegate centre is run down and not used to best effect for our community
Too many new developments are happening that misunderstand the subtle relationship between population and space.
The run down parts. There are too few bus routes, everything goes via Lewisham for example you can't get to Greenwich Park or town. The eyesore of the Leegate centre which brings the area down. Traffic grows but calming measures are Fair number of run down shops. Would like direct buses to Greenwich and Forest Hill
Leegate
Can be a bit rough around the edges - needs some regeneration in areas. Road system is a mess.
Pollution and scruffy
The busy Lee Green junction
Rubbish on the street, overall grubby appearance of high street and shopping centre, crime
What's not to like?
Speeding vehicles through our 20mph roads
The Leegate Centre
Crime The congestion and badly managed road traffic and parking; the creeping of chain supermarkets; the empty shop spaces; lack of choice of good secondary schools; the changes in the management of the Manor House
Lee High Road and Lee Green town centre are not cohesive, they don't flow together or draw people in.
Leegate not being constructed as it's an eyesore!
Speeding drivers on side roads. Rubbish tipping. There actually isn't a great deal that I don't like about Lee. I am very sad that the Leegate shopping centre has gone into decline from being the busy and well used centre that it was when I first came to Lee in 1985. I Trains can be unreliable. Can sometimes feel a bit un-loved particularly on the 60s-housing side of Burnt Ash Road (bad parking, flytipping, overgrown trees on pavement restricting drivers' view etc)
See below and the cut through via Abergeldie Road, Horn Park Lane and Upwood Road.
Leegate Lack of independent businesses

Its shifting rural landscape to urbanism, the growth of new corporate businesses like Sainsbury's local (unnecessary) and it's increasing selfishness from certain groups of residents

Traffic cutting through rat-runs, the ugly station fencing and overly tall floodlights which can be seen for miles around. HG station needs substantial work.

Lee Gate shopping centre

The Leegate centre. Charity shops with clothes/other items dumped outside them. The Mimosa cocktail bar. That despite living in a family home we're not in a school catchment. This will mean we have to either travel across the borough to a school, or leave an area and a house we love.

Inconsistency in road width restrictions - signage inaccurate and confusing. Streets could be cleaner, Sainsburys could be a lot better, potholes.

Traffic and pollution

There needs to be more thought put into the shops and businesses in the area and more communication about what is happening in the Lee area. We never hear about events or activities at Manor Gardens.

Some parts of Lee look quite scruffy.

Litter, dumping, Lee Centre dereliction

Old Tiger's Head cross roads is an eyesore and a nightmare. The listed New Tiger's Head is derelict and in my view is completely defeating the point of a listing. There is a lack of good parking in Lee and the threat of High storey residential buildings near the old Lee Gate centre.

Leegate, waste of space

LeeGate - an eyesore. Lack of facilities - we need better shops in the area

Use of Conservation area as a rat-run and the speeding cars./Terrible state of Leegate./The badly designed crossroads at Lee Green.

Derelict pieces of land and property (old vauxhall dealership on Lee High Road, vacant flats above the bookies/estate agents next door that look like pigeon coops - broken windows etc), the length of time the

Not enough thought/planning put into any development

Lee flatters to deceive, some grim council estates. Poor layout of main road which leads to appalling traffic and air pollution. Truly inadequate secondary schools- my son has to go to school out of borough. Shopping

It's dirty and looking very down at heel.

The traffic, the Leegate Centre, the dog poo.

Commuters coming to the area and using roads near station to park parking inconsiderately. parking wardens to visit more often.

Struggling town centre, some unloved bits of public realm, feels a bit disconnected in some ways, new buildings of limited design quality (low standards of LA's)

nothing specific

Collaboration is not enough within groups

The traffic and streets lined with parked cars making it difficult to drive. The car fumes and poor air quality. Leegate looks run down and depressing.

Leegate

Heavy traffic.

Air of neglect and poverty, too much traffic down Lee Road, coaches, dangerous roads for people to cross, neglected property, run down shops lack of decent transport - in area around courtlands it is reliant on buses or boring walk to lee or kidbrooke stations. lack of decent pub / takeaways. leegate centre is grim (but don't think st modwen plans are best

Lee Green

The gangs that hang about Leegate

Lee Green precinct needs updating with a community sensitive plan. Also the new tigers head could be turned into a community venue - looks unsightly boarded up. Disappointed that the council have stopped

Traffic

Could we bury the main roads? It would then become amazing

Leegate. Flytipping. Traffic.

Some parts of Lee seem to have problems with selfish parking and litter/dog dirt and general lack of pride. There is unsociable behaviour and a lack of police presence which can feel a little unsafe at times. More Derelict New Tigers Head pub which has stood empty for years. Leegate redevelopment plans for Asda supermarket opposite large Sainsbury's - empty shops, uninspiring public space, traffic lights at cross roads, Traffic and pollution, Leegate centre is an eyesore, spaces which could have better community planting esp interface between council property and conservation area which could be made better, concrete front Dilapidated properties in both boroughs, and the run-down Leegate centre. As well as being unsightly in itself, it lowers people's morale, encourages vandalism, and the dumping of rubbish on pavements, both by Leegate not being developed fast enough!

Poor conditions of roads. Lee trains really busy.
Too many empty shop fronts and some that need tidying up. Unecessary Traffic build ups at lee green. It is not now easy for small businesses to thrive / start up, competition from supermarkets /internet. Excessively high house prices: Limited options for our young who grow up in the area to buy / rent houses
St Mowden ruining the area by running it down more and more young people in Manor House Gardens at night or around; more and more noise and pollution; library new opening hours impacting on children's education and safety in the park; Manor Lane
Traffic (especially at lee green crossroads) constant sirens, air quality, sometimes feel unsafe
New crossings, Lee station engineering works, main road closures before midnight. Lee gate is really tatty The crossroads is a nightmare.
Lee Gate has been run down over the years. Traffic.
Great primary schools but not enough places. Secondary schools are unappealing.
Traffic (especially speeding and rat-running), streets becoming increasingly unclean and poorly maintained, few/poor secondary schools.
Leagate - in desperate need of regeneration. Seemingly brilliantly located, yet quite destitute in places, the Old Tigers Head is a lovely building but empty. The flats above lots of the shops are empty with broken I don't like inappropriate new development. Leegate is a good example. I'm sure that given half a chance, Lewisham Council planning dept would have the area covered in high rise building in no time

What needs to be improved?

Lee gate first and foremost and also the fly tipping spots eg Old Road

Air quality, much more high profile policing and alternatives to encouraging people to use their cars for shopping; also low emission vehicles. The 20mph is not a good idea for traffic on Baring Road, Burnt Ash Hill Leegate, signage, small shops. It could be great, should be great, isn't.

The Leegate shopping centre is in desperate need of redevelopment.

Leegate. Some of the housing. Control parking on the streets stop traffic cutting through side streets.

Air pollution needs to be reduced and more traffic free areas. The small Edith Nesbit park needs attention - play area for children is. Wry run down.

Traffic speeds and levels.

The early Victorian buildings bordering Lee Rd have some quaintness but must be coming to the end of their useful life. They are vulnerable to flooding as they are low lying and have basements. This is not to say that Traffic going through to Lewisham, big lorries, tons of coaches from Europe though don't know where they could go instead. Air of neglect and poor shops along Lee Road

To try to decrease the effect of the newly build Asda on our neighbourhood and more frequent trains to central London. I also think the frequency of the buses should be improved.

the roadscape and management of traffic around Manor Lane and environs - 20MPH and massive enforcement needed; step free access etc

Too many cars and traffic. Leegate junction needs to be redesigned. Lack of direct bus route to Greenwich.

Conservation Society has too much power and this makes it harder and more expensive for local people to

More money spent on housing, better traffic management and on punishing flytippers. More control of shop tenancies e.g. Less pawn and tattoo parlours

The empty Tigers Head. Lee Gate - although the St Modwen plan for a massive supermarket development is still not ideal.

See above. I fully support the regeneration of the parade Lee Gree and this would go someway to improving the attractiveness of this area.

Demolish the shopping centre. Do not add any more supermarkets - Sainsbury's is quite enough. More independent shops would be nice and open spaces.

The Leegate centre. Clearly trains could be more frequent but recognise that isn't within council control :)

Reduce rat runs, build bike lanes and reduce road use.

See above - park could be improved, local primary schools, the cross roads is appalling and worse following changes, leegate and traffic planning generally

More zebra crossings (e.g. outside primary schools) and other speed reducing measures, a good solution for Leegate including better road infrastructure on Burnt Ash.

A good clean-up of the streets, and new pavements to be laid after they have been dug up by various Companies many times. Really, the whole area needs a bit of TLC.

Despite having fairly decent transport links these will need to be improved rapidly with the proposed new flats and shopping centre in Lee Green and the ever expanding Kidbrooke Village

More independent shops and another speed camera on Lee high road

Some small, non-chain shops selling really useful stuff, not just knick-knacks and maybe some decent, affordable housing around the precinct.

Leegate needs a decent plan for redevelopment that provides pleasant open space and places that could be used by local people for arts events and other activities. The air quality issues need to be addressed and not

Lee green, leegate centre. The empty Tigers Head pub. Parking.

High quality secondary school education and buildings with community use of internal and external spaces

Leegate

High quality secondary school education and buildings with community use of internal and external spaces. This will be of great benefit to the wider community.

Safe travelling to the school would be greatly appreciated.

We need a secondary school education of high quality and buildings with community use of internal and, importantly, external spaces. This will be beneficial to both children of the school and the community.

Improve quality of roads and public transport, street cleaning, etc.

I believe the area need high quality secondary school education as IAG has been providing for the children, buildings with community use of internal and external spaces.

More green areas

too much paperwork to get business up and running.

Education, common realm maintenance

What are your top three issues to be covered in a neighbourhood plan?

More affordable housing in the legate development

Preservation of Manor House library with extended community use

Air pollution, crime and volume of traffic.

Shops, facilities and housing

Redevelopment of Leegate A new school A community centre

1. Leegate 2. Maintain open spaces 3 Traffic including providing parking for any new housing

Environmental standards, diversity of shops and businesses, community facilities.

Traffic and safer pedestrian crossings on school routes

More emphasis on communities pulling together rather than being defined by a boundary.

Plaques show the history of the area thanks in part to the Lee Society. This should be expanded and the "Green" and horse bus stables identified "on the ground".

Streetscape in Lee centre and along Lee Road. Traffic through Lee from continent. Empty buildings in Lee centre

Location of new houses and the design of those houses; less high rise building for example. Improve the varieties of shops given permission to open and opening up more community facilities such as centres for

Traffic management; Leegate centre and New Tiger's Head; protecting green space

Affordable housing. Traffic reduction. Green spaces and street planting.

Better maintenance of council stock, less unnecessary street clutter through better design, more rigorous application of rules in conservation areas and neighbouring streets

Clean up the roads

Does it meet the community's needs? Is there a need for such a building in this area now? Is it attractive to look at.

Lee crossing is appalling -- too many empty shops - Sainsbury's is forcing too many shops to close -

High street, library and bus service

1) improvement of (addition to) quality secondary school options; 2) better and more varied shops; 3) a cultural focal point (library/theatre)

1. Schools - Lee families are increasingly worried about the lack of high quality secondary school places but the local community seems opposed to the opening of the new International Academy of Greenwich. 2. High
Keeping the area low rise and turn empty shops into housing. Better bus routes. Preserve Manor House Library as a library Help area around Lee Green to attract independent shops and businesses so it can thrive and become more Scruffy and empty shops, streetscape - some pavements are very narrow and uneven, save Manor House Library Design. Green spaces.
Preserving and building the local economy (shops and work live space). Getting the area ready for the digital revolution. Supporting local community and groups
Environmental standards for high traffic pollution, community facilities, location of new houses and shops
Parking regulations, design, cleanliness Lewisham is currently undergoing an enormous amount of residential building including many high-rise appartment blocks. I don't object to this per se but would like to see how all these new residents will be

Traffic reduction & speed control. Conservation of historic buildings and streets. Regeneration. Greens spaces/ air pollution; Stand against densely-built high-rise developments; measures to tackle exposure to pollution make employment opportunities shops and high streets more attractive
No issues it's a good plan Legate centre - revised plan for renewal at lower height overall and with more green space. Roads/driving. Library My first reaction is to say all of these issues are as important as each other and each one influences the area a great deal. If I have to choose I would say Historic buildings should be preserved and utilised. The Leegate Centre (we don't need another supermarket)
I love living in Lee but unfortunately the cut through used on a daily bases by traffic coming off the A20 and the South Circle along Abergeldie Road and Horn Park Lane and then along Upwood Road has become Shops High streets

quite and peaceful enjoyment of the area. reduction of resident parking bays. increased access for people with disabilities to transport facilities and to parking areas
Expand the conservation area to cover more of the victorian terraced streets
Try to influence improvements to traffic reduction measures and HG station improvements
Provision, maintenance and upkeep of community services and facilities, preservation of neighbourhood character, enforce property owners to upkeep their properties
Empty buildings. Leegate Centre future. Late licensed premises.
School places, school places and school places! And in proper state schools, not free schools or religious ones.
The Lee Green crossroads - above the Old Tigers Head, New Tigers Head, Leegate Centre, maintaining Manor House Gardens.
Push for regeneration on Lee High Road where empty buildings and run down shops could be improved.

Lee Green cross roads, design quality/standards, streetscape opening up access to the river, making Leegate a real hub, keeping the green spaces safe

Promotion of local businesses, environmental standards, better debates on recycling/waste management, green spaces to be boosted and supported

environmental standards

Map all the facts: population, location of services, schools, doctors surgeries, nursery schools, old people's homes, etc etc.

Good redevelopment, with well built shops and offices, of a high architectural standard. The height of buildings is immaterial as long as they are well designed.

Protect the parks so they remain a vital resource for families and local people, improve the streetscape, speed up local planning so that empty buildings are improved or up graded or replaced

transport

leisure (shops / restaurants / facilities for young people)

The new build of IAG.

More green space and low rise proposed development rather than high density that's happening in Lewisham

Renovation New Tiger's Head

Bow art studios have setup in Leegate tower- this will soon end- how do we retain and build on this for the area? Put the back of mine is the flood plain for the quaggy- there is a burnt out country club and crappy
Getting something done to improve the area around the cross roads at Lee Green, including Leegate.

Controlling traffic by adapting roads.

High streets- more choice and more attractive outlets. Cleaner streets- environmental issues.

Encouragement of cultural and leisure activities through imaginative use of empty or historic buildings with

Retention of historic Manor House as a library, redevelopment of Leegate but not with another supermarket, making it somewhere people want to go

Empty buildings (e.g. no 3 Effingham road owned by a family who don't seem able to decide what to do with it so it remains unoccupied), new buildings - make sure they are suitable for local people (not foreign Legate needs to be replaced at all costs. Almost anything would be better than what we have.

The proposal to site a school on the Bowring sports ground is perplexing and ill thought out. A school is

High quality secondary school education and buildings with community use of internal and external spaces.

Please, allow the school building to be finished. Please, don't refurbish the cafe in the Manor house garden.

The most important issue for us is our hope and wish that Lee Forum will establish support for IAG's new community building on the Bowring site.
